knew that he was going to have a good year ahead.

Section H (4 x 2m)

Comprehension Open-ended

Read the passage below and answer questions 39 to 42. Your answers must be based on the passage.

I had seen a lot of dogs in my job as a vet. Oddball was the funniest-looking dog I had ever seen. His bulging eyes always made me laugh. Oddball had been abandoned by his owner. I found him at my animal clinic's doorstep one evening. Beside him was a note which read: 'Please take care of my dog.' How I wished I could adopt him but I already had three dogs to take care of at home. Finally, I decided to put up an advertisement – "Funny-looking dog, well-behaved, needs a loving family". 5

A week later, a boy called to ask about the adoption. I cautioned him about Oddball's unusual appearance. I did not want the dog to be rejected because of how he looked. After all, he had the sweetest personality. "That will not bother my grandmother," the boy replied. He went on to explain that his grandmother's dog had just died and she needed a companion badly. I told him that he could drop by my clinic whenever he was ready. He told me that he would come with his grandmother. 10

The next day, a boy and an old woman arrived just before noon. "Hello, I called yesterday," said the boy. "This is my granny." As I passed Oddball to the woman, she cradled him in her arms and stroked his fur. Oddball licked her face. It was love at first lick. "He's perfect!" she exclaimed. I smiled. That was when I saw that she was blind. It did not matter to her how Oddball looked. 15

Comprehension Open-ended

Read the passage below and answer questions 39 to 42. Your answers must be based on the passage.

Two cats were rummaging through the dustbins in a park. It had been days since they had last eaten. Suddenly, they spotted a loaf of bread lying beneath a tree. With a last ounce of energy, they pounced on it and grabbed the bread at the same time.

"It's mine as I stepped on it first," claimed one cat.

"I saw it first and so it belongs to me!" said the other cat.

A monkey sitting on the branch of the tree heard their quarrel. He scurried down and offered to help the cats solve their problem. Gladly, they accepted it.

The monkey smiled and broke the loaf of bread into two pieces.

10

However, one piece was bigger than the other. So, he took a bite from the bigger piece in an attempt to make both pieces equal. Unfortunately, the bite he had taken was too big and the bigger piece now became smaller than the other. The two cats sat in front of the monkey. They watched in horror as the bread continued to shrink in size with each of the monkey's bite. When the monkey had finished the entire loaf, it jumped onto the tree and disappeared.
